CONFERENCE VENUE

REC2013 will take place at ISR-UC (Instituto de Sistemas e Robótica – Universidade de Coimbra), that is adjacent to the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering - Faculty of Science and Technology of the University of Coimbra, at Pólo II.

HOW TO GET HERE

Plane
To travel to Coimbra you should fly either to Lisboa or to Porto and then take a train or a bus. The International Airports of Lisbon and Porto have regular scheduled flights to and from all main European destinations as well as major world cities.

By Train

From Lisbon
You can get to Coimbra by train from the main station of Lisboa-Oriente (you can arrive there from the airport by metro, bus or taxi). The trip from Lisboa-Oriente to Coimbra-B station takes approximately 120 minutes and the price for the train ticket (Alfa Pendular or Intercidades trains) varies between 15,50€ and 31€.

From Porto (Oporto)
The trains leave from Porto-Campanhã station (you can get there from the airport by bus, taxi or metro - use the direct violet metro line from the Sá Carneiro Airport). The trip from Porto-Campanhã to Coimbra-B station takes approximately 60 minutes and the price for the train ticket (Alfa Pendular or Intercidades trains) varies between 11€ and 21,50€. You can check the timetables of portuguese trains at: http://www.cp.pt/

By Bus
You can also arrive in Coimbra by Bus. Ticket prices are approximately 13€, coming from Lisbon, and 11,50€, coming from Porto. Detailed information can be found at http://www.rede-expressos.pt.

By car
Portugal has a good network of motorways/freeways. You can rent a car at the airport or at any train station as well as in all major cities.
